

Laucala Island, Fiji

Laucala Island

- Private island resort • Elegant and natural design
- Family and honeymoon-friendly • Organic cuisine
- All-inclusive resort • Full-service organic spa • 18-hole championship golf course • World-class water sports
- DeepFlight submersible experience
- 85 percent self-sufficient

Laucala is an exclusive sanctuary on a remote 3,500-acre private island. Individually designed villas reflect the environment and Fijian culture and occupy a variety of settings, some with a private beach. Each offers indoor/outdoor living spaces, an outdoor shower, infinity-edge pool, natural furnishings and a personal buggy. Fresh produce and livestock from the resort's gardens and farm provide ingredients for fine dining in the elegant Plantation House and Asian-influenced dishes in the Seagrass Restaurant; also lounge and pool/beach bars. Diversions at Laucala Island include large pool, hilltop spa, gym, David McLay Kidd–designed championship golf course and two-seater submarine; diving, rain forest tours, tennis, fishing, horseback riding and yachting. –Andrew Harper
